Kimball, for the murder of Buck at Warm Springs, in 1867, the Court is now engaged on hearing the motion of Buck at Warm Springs, in 1807, the Court is now engaged on hearing the motion of Mr. Hempstead to quash the indictment. The ground of the motion is as follows: First, The Grand Jury improperly designated the offencews murder in the first degree. Second, That there is no addition or description of the defendants. Third, No certainty in the allegation or date of the offence. Fourth, That the decased was not alleged to have been alive at the time of the alleged murder. Fith, There is no allegation that the defendants conspired together, or that they were present and abetting, or were accessories before the fact of the killing of Buck. Sixth, The uncertainty of the description Sixth, The uncertainty of the description of the means by which the killing was effected. Seventh, That the nam effected. Sevents, That the names of the witnesses are not endorsed upon the indictment as required by statute. A furious snow storm has been raging here to-day. The canons are supposed to be entirely blocked. No communica-
